October 2025

MESSAGE FROM KATHERYN, OUR CHIEF OFFICER

Welcome to our latest newsletter. We have not had a newsletter for some time, and this Autumn edition is the first of quarterly editions. I hope you find it informative, interesting and useful! I want to take a moment to celebrate everything we've achieved together at Involve - and to thank every one of you who's played a part. This year has been defined by connection, compassion, and community spirit. We've supported hundreds of groups, charities and VCSE organisations across Mid Devon, expanded our projects, and hosted vibrant local events. A particular highlight has been the launch of Communities that Can - an energising project helping local groups build confidence, share skills, and shape their own futures. It's been incredible to see ideas blossom and partnerships grow.

Our wonderful team of staff and trustees has more than doubled in size, making our provision even more accessible. Whether a resident stepping forward to volunteer, a young person feeling heard, or a group tackling loneliness, we are reminded of why Involve exists. Looking ahead, we're excited to build on this momentum continuing to champion grassroots action, amplify local voices, and expand our services across Mid Devon to make an even greater impact. Thank you for being part of our journey.

OUR MISSION

To empower people and communities through practical support, advice and connection - building resilience and wellbeing across Mid Devon.

OUR VISION

A thriving, inclusive Mid Devon where every community group has the support it needs, everyone feels they belong and can make a positive impact.

NEWS

OUR STAFF TEAM DAY

Recently, we hosted our annual Team Day – a chance to pause, reflect, and celebrate all the brilliant things our team has achieved over the past year. It was also a fantastic opportunity for newer team members to meet colleagues in person for the first time.
The day was designed to strike a balance between reflection, creativity and fun. We started with mindfulness to set the tone, before moving into a lively African drumming session that got everyone energised. A tea-party lunch with sandwiches, scones and cakes gave us the chance to pause, enjoy time together and raise a toast to the past year. A brand update workshop invited the team to share ideas about Involve's future, and we rounded things off with a virtual escape room, bringing collaboration and problem-solving into play.

We also celebrated some incredible contributions with awards presented to:
Lloyd Waterman (Devon People First, Lead Project Coordinator) – for consistent hard work and dedication.
Jane Lillis (Administrator) – for consistent hard work and dedication.
Sophia Roper (Senior Community Youth Worker) – for going above and beyond in her role at Involve.
Tamlyn Fraiquin (Communities that Can, Project Manager) – for going above and beyond in her role as Crediton Community Builder at Involve.
Zoe Flockhart (Wellbeing Coordinator, Culm Valley) – for going above and beyond in her role at Involve.
Laura McDonagh (Wellbeing Lead, Culm Valley) – for her passion, enthusiasm and great team spirit
Holly Cooper (Marketing, Publicity and Events Manager) – for great achievement and results as a new starter.
It was a day full of connection, laughter, and inspiration. A huge thank you to everyone who joined us and contributed to making the day so special.
Here's to another year of collaboration, creativity, and making a difference together!

UPDATES FROM THE VCSE SECTOR

UK GOVERNMENT LAUNCHES CIVIL SOCIETY COVENANT

On 17 July 2025, the UK Government introduced the Civil Society Covenant- a new framework for collaborative policy making that prioritises people and communities. The Covenant outlines how civil society organisations and public bodies will work together at national and local levels to co-design inclusive policies.
It commits to strengthening partnerships across health, local government, and the justice system, and applies to all UK Government departments. The initiative acknowledges the essential contributions of charities, social enterprises, faith groups, unions, funders, and grassroots community organisations. Read the full story:

GOVO: COMMUNICATIONS TOOLKIT FOR INFRASTRUCTURE ORGANISATIONS

GoVo is being developed to grow volunteering across Britain and mobilise the next generation of volunteers. It is free for charities to use and is being developed thanks to players of People's Postcode Lottery. With input from a range of charities and organisations, the aim is to create a platform for the sector that will reduce barriers to participation by providing a flexible way of volunteering and roles that fit in with different lifestyles and interests. Contributing to the existing volunteering eco-system and building on and amplifying the vital work already happening at local and national level, GoVo will help charities recruit and onboard volunteers. The platform will open to the public on 17th October with a high-profile launch campaign involving media partners; ITV, STV, Mail Metro Group, Global and YouTube.

HAVE YOUR SAY ON DEVON'S LOCAL GOVERNMENT REORGANISATION

Devon County Council is inviting residents to share their views on the major reorganisation of local government. Under UK Government proposals, Devon's current district and county councils are set to be replaced by 'empowered, simplified, resilient and sustainable' unitary authorities, delivering all services within a single area.
All feedback will help shape how services are structured to best serve Devon communities. Go to survey: https://devoncountycouncil.commonplace.is/en-GB/proposals/v3/accessible-survey (reply by 14th October 2025). They are encouraging everyone to share their views.

A series of roadshow events in towns throughout the county will also take place over the next few months. More info: https://devoncountycouncil.commonplace.is/

CTC PROJECT UPDATE

Launched in May 2025 with the support of National Lottery funding, the Communities that Can Project is a really exciting step forward for us at Involve. It's given us the chance to build on what we've already achieved and grow what we can offer to support the communities we care about.

One of our first big goals was to bring together a great team, and we're so proud of the people who've joined us. They bring a huge range of experience, and most importantly, they truly reflect the values that sit at the heart of Involve.

Even in these early days, their work is already making a difference, helping to create positive change and offering support where it's needed most.

We're so excited about what's ahead. With this team, and by working closely with our communities and partners, we know we can achieve something really special together.

COMMUNITY UPDATE - CREDITON

Crediton is buzzing with activity, with a range of initiatives making a real impact thanks to Emma Healey.

The Vintage Farmers group is thriving, with over 70 members enjoying a late summer party in September. Our Peer Cancer Support Group is also expanding, with creative activities and gentle exercise classes now on offer, alongside a new coffee morning in Bow to reach rural areas.

September also saw the launch of Community Cookery Hubs, funded by Devon County Council's Food Insecurity initiative. In partnership with QE Secondary School, the cookery rooms are now open to the wider community. Wilf, Head of Technology, has inspired participants with healthy, tasty recipes that Crediton Youth are enjoying.

Our collaboration with QE continues through EcoThreads and the Pre-loved Prom, while work with the Community Alcohol Partnership is shaping a strategy to reduce harm from alcohol and vaping amongst our youth.

Finally, a new writing group has begun—sharing stories, ideas, and plenty of coffee.

COMMUNITY UPDATE - CULLOMPTON

Cullompton is a wonderful town, and we knew we needed someone special to be its Community Builder. In just a few months, Carla Crofts has already made a huge difference. She's been out meeting people, connecting with local groups and charities, and listening carefully to what the community wants.

One of the first projects she set up was the Walk and Talk group, which quickly grew to over 15 members. From this, members suggested the idea of a Friendship Bench, a place where people can sit, chat, and connect during the walks.

We're also really excited about the upcoming Cookery Hub, a collaboration with the Waldrons and the Keystone Project, which will soon be launching on a trial basis. Meanwhile, plans for a Community Fridge are progressing, with just a location left to be secured.

COMMUNITY UPDATE - TIVERTON

We haven't had a community presence in Tiverton for some time, and we know the town desperately needs one. We will have a new Community Builder on board very soon to join our amazing team.

We will then be out and about in Tiverton meeting community members, helping us build a clearer understanding of what's already happening in the town, what still needs to happen, and who can help make it happen.

We know there's a real need for a Vintage Farmers group in the rural Tiverton area, so one of our first projects will be to help make that happen. Watch this space!

VINTAGE FARMERS PROJECT UPDATE

The Crediton Vintage Farmers Group is absolutely amazing. What began as a simple conversation between Tamlyn Fraiquin and Richard Sampson from The FCN in Spring 2024 about rural isolation among the older community has grown into a vibrant, welcoming group of over 90 members.

We meet on the last Wednesday of every month to simply spend time together, and the support we've received from the community and local businesses has been incredible. In May we enjoyed a first anniversary meal at the Waie Inn, with BBC Radio 4 attending to interview some for a piece of wellbeing. In September, Mole Avon kindly sponsored and hosted a late summer party, which brought together around 70 people for a truly special day.

To hear what the group means to some of our members, you can watch a short video of them sharing their thoughts.

OUR IMPACT 2024-25

Last year, we provided support and guidance to over 400 community groups across Mid Devon. This included in-depth 1:1 support and guidance to 82 groups. We welcomed two new trustees; Nicola Aver for Devon People First and Alison Padfield from CHAT.

Our Community Building work included: Vintage Farmers groups in Cullompton and Crediton, with 85+ members, a Volunteer Stand with 120 attendees; a collaborative Summer Youth Programme for 80 young people, three Family Hub meetings with 45 participants, Cullompton's first Repair Café together with Uffculme Repair Café; partnering with Macmillan to run Cancer Cafés and starting a Food Insecurity Project in Crediton with the local food bank.

Networking: We promoted local groups through face-to-face engagement, newsletters, and social media. We launched Cullompton Community Directory including 38 organisations now regularly used by residents and health professionals. We hosted quarterly Health and Wellbeing Alliance meetings in Crediton, Cullompton, and Tiverton with 107 groups – a 35% increase. A District-wide Food Network met three times with 24 participating groups. We administered the Mid Devon hub for Devon Connect with 283 groups and 1639 users. Devon Connect has reached 5000 members.

Devon People First: DPF reached 2500 people with first contacts, delivered 23 Co-production Awareness training/ meetings, ran online Friendship Groups with 515 attendances and piloted new in-person Friendship groups and launched a learning disability service directory with 737 visitors following its launch - https://devonpeoplefirst.involve-middevon.org.uk/

Culm Valley Wellbeing: We delivered social prescribing support to Culm Valley PCN via three well-being coordinators, handling 206 referrals and 4,726 contacts. Main referral reasons were mental health and isolation. HOPE courses enrolled 32 people in Mid Devon and 74 in East Devon.

Cullompton Youth Club: We reached 122 registered members and ran 78 sessions with average attendance of 30, peaking at 44. Activities included boxing, yoga, and pickleball. The youth team also delivered a 6-month sports project and worked with Young Devon supporting vulnerable youth.

OUR PLANS

THE VOLUNTEER HUB: SUPPORTING VOLUNTEERING IN MID-DEVON

We're excited to be relaunching a Volunteer Centre in Tiverton, which will be a new Volunteer Hub for Mid Devon —an essential step in Involve becoming Mid-Devon's leading champion of voluntary and community action. Local organisations have told us they need hands-on support to attract, train and retain volunteers, and we aim to deliver just that.

As statutory services increasingly rely on the voluntary sector, our Hub will provide the guidance and resources groups need to stay resilient. From recruiting trustees to motivating wide-ranging volunteers, to peer-to-peer support and Volunteer Fairs, our Community Volunteer Service Lead —at the heart of our new Hub —will help local charities and organisations thrive. Together, we aim to build stronger, more connected communities. Look out for news about the launch of the Hub and planned events.

RURAL COMMUNITY BUILDERS

Through our work on the ground in Mid Devon communities, we have found that community building projects are essential for creating vibrant, resilient, and inclusive communities that can adapt to and thrive in changing circumstances. Local communities have the best understanding of their own needs and challenges. Community Builders empower them to take action and create sustainable solutions including the set-up of groups and activities in response. With wide local experience of the area, a Community Builder can connect you with like-minded people, organisations and groups. Lives can be transformed when local people work together with their Community Builder to bring positive change to the place where they live. New activities are set up, diverse groups established, friendships created. Anything from gardening projects, health walks, memory cafes, coffee mornings, to IT support and Make do and Mend groups, to young people's activities, but most importantly, community members supporting and listening to each other each on a regular basis. A Community Builder makes a difference. Next year we will be recruiting two new Rural Community Builders to focus on the particular issues and needs of our rural communities. Watch this space for more news!

CULM VALLEY HEALTH AND WELLBEING

WHO ARE WE AND WHAT DO WE DO?

We're a small but mighty team of four, funded by Culm Valley PCN. I'm Laura, and I'm lucky to lead this amazing group of passionate women—Zoe and Lauriel, our Wellbeing Coordinators, and Julia, our brilliant new Health Coach. Together, our mission is simple: to help you help yourself. There's no such thing as a typical day for us. We start and end with emails and phone checks, but everything in between is wonderfully varied. We support people referred to our service for up to six sessions, helping with things like mental health, weight loss, long-term conditions, or loneliness.

Our first sessions are all about listening and gathering information. We ask open questions and begin to shape ideas for how we can help. Sometimes we set goals early on, but often that comes later.

The middle sessions are where the magic happens. We see progress, set goals, and offer coaching or connect clients with other services—whether that's talking therapies, gym referrals, or local community groups. We also help with practical issues like housing or finances (we're pretty good at form filling!)

Final sessions can be emotional. We often hear, "What will I do without you?"—but we know our clients are ready. They leave with tools, confidence, and the option to self-refer in the future, though most don't need to.

Of course, not every journey fits the model. Some clients need more specialist support, and we stay in touch until the time is right. Others only need a couple of sessions before they're off and running.

What makes us proudest is our flexibility. We tailor everything to the individual—from appointment frequency to communication style. We can text, call, video chat, meet at the surgery, or even go for a walk and talk (a team favourite!)

Between sessions, we're busy learning about local resources, completing training (we've covered autism, HIV, disabilities and more), and attending meetings with GP practices and other professionals to stay connected and informed.

A "day in the life" wouldn't do us justice—but we hope this gives you a glimpse into the variety and heart of what we do. We're proud of the service we've built and hope it continues to grow for years to come.

Laura McDonagh, Wellbeing Lead (Culm Valley)

DEVON PEOPLE FIRST

IN-PERSON FRIENDSHIP GROUPS

Across Devon, we want more people to live independently in their own homes in the community, to benefit from support that builds on their strengths and to live the life that is right for them and those who support them. With funding from Devon County Council and in partnership with Devon Voluntary Action and Devon People First we have developed a pilot project that we ran in 2024-25 offering Disability Awareness Training and the set-up of new in-person Friendship groups for people with a learning disability. This year our project supporting adults of working age with a disability to access community and voluntary sector services and resources has seen the development of new in-person friendship groups for people with disabilities across Devon. Two groups are launching in Barnstaple and Ilfracombe, through North Devon CVS and Disability Consultant Nicki Palmer.

There is also a new Friendship group at The Alice Cross Centre in Teignmouth hosted by Peta Howell (Manager), Anna Kroening-Maynard from Teignmouth CVS and volunteers.
There are interested groups in Tiverton, Okehampton and Torridge. We are looking to establish these within the next 3 months once we have located suitable venues and partner organisations.

Other in-person groups continue to run, with an average of 12 people at our Honiton group, and 8 in Cullompton, supported by the Keystone Project. The Crediton group will be relaunching soon with support from our Community Builder, hopefully with a new venue!

The Honiton group recently decided they would like to go on a day trip. We arranged for them to catch the bus to Sidmouth sea front, where they enjoyed a walk along the beach, followed by a chippy lunch! Feedback was very positive, with comments like 'This was a magical moment', 'Fantabydosey' and 'A really lovely day'. We are now planning our next day trip in November.

We continue to offer our support to CVS organisations to develop these Friendship groups and are looking at a peer-to-peer get together to share learning and inform future developments of the project.

From supporters:

'It's so good for people to have something new to do, and a welcoming place to go in the week'
'It's been really good for us to be able to talk about what matters to the people we support, and learn from each other'

Upcoming dates and times:

Ilfracombe: 2nd Wednesday of the month 9.30-11am at Slade Vision Centre.
Barnstaple: 4th Monday of the month 9.30-11am at Roundswell Community Centre .
Teignmouth: Last Saturday of the month 1-3pm at The Alice Cross Centre.
Honiton: Fridays 10-12pm at James' Patisserie.
Cullompton: 1st Monday of the month 11-1am at Cullompton Community Centre.'

CULLOMPTON YOUTH CLUB

WHAT IS YOUTH WORK AND WHY DOES IT MATTER?

Often seen as "just fun and games", youth work is often misunderstood due to its informal nature, diverse settings, and a lack of public awareness of its educational and developmental purpose.

So, what is youth work and why does it matter?

Youth work is a unique practice dedicated to supporting young people's personal, social, and educational development. A fundamental element of youth work is young people's voluntary participation. This means that a young person chooses to engage with youth work; a dynamic that builds trust, fosters a genuine partnership and is a key difference from other services that young people may be required to attend. Whether in a youth club or on the street, youth workers create an environment where young people feel valued, listened to, and respected. They don't impose a curriculum but rather facilitate activities and conversations that respond to young people's needs and interests. This might involve anything from discussing career goals and managing mental health to organising community projects or simply having a chat over a cup of tea.

For young people, youth work provides a sense of belonging and a supportive network outside of school and family. It helps young people develop crucial life skills, such as communication, teamwork, and resilience. It boosts their confidence, encourages them to explore their identity, and empowers them to make positive choices. By offering a safe space to navigate challenges, youth work can be a lifeline for those facing difficulties.

Youth work is also of great benefit to the wider community. By giving young people positive outlets and supportive relationships, youth work can promote community cohesion and reduce anti-social behaviour.

It builds a foundation for a more inclusive and understanding society, as young people are supported to engage with their community and become positive role models for their peers. By investing in youth work, we are not just helping individuals; we are building a stronger, more connected, and more resilient society for everyone.

Cullompton Youth Club is managed and delivered by Involve Voluntary Action in Mid Devon.
Sessions run term time at John Tallack Youth and Community Centre:
Juniors (for young people in years 7 & 8) Mondays 6.30pm - 8.30pm
Seniors (for young people in year 9 to 18 years) Wednesdays 6.30pm - 8.30pm
